

Biography of Visiting Professor SoongHee Han

SoongHee Han is Professor of Lifelong Learning in the Department of Education at Seoul National University, South Korea. He earned his Bachelor's and Master's degree from Seoul National University and Doctorate from the State University of New York at Buffalo. His academic work has focused mainly on studies of learning society, comparative and global studies of lifelong learning, critical theories in adult education, competencies. He is also deeply involved in studies of popular education and human rights education in the Korean context.

SoongHee Han è Professore di Lifelong Learning presso il Department of Education della Seoul National University, Sud Korea. Ha conseguito il titolo di laurea presso la medesima università e il dottorato di ricerca presso la State University of New York di Buffalo. La sua ricerca si focalizza sui temi seguenti: learning society, studi comparativi e globali sul lifelong learning, teorie critiche dell'educazione degli adulti, competencies, educazione popolare e diritti umani in Sud Korea.